CCA's Executive Committee

City Attorney Mike Feuer joined us this week at CCA's Executive Committee. He spoke about the responsibilities of being the City's chief law enforcer and shared his vision for a thriving Los Angeles.

Feuer candidly shared his views on the Trump Administration's recent actions regarding the travel ban, provided a good overview about Special Order 40, and what the term "sanctuary city" actually means. Feuer strongly supports local law enforcement and believes Los Angeles is a safer city when law enforcement can work with the immigrant community without the fear of deportation. Special Order 40 codifies that LAPD officers will not initiate a contact to inquire about immigration status. This has been a standing policy for four decades. Feuer stated if the Trump administration withholds federal funding from Los Angeles based on Special Order 40, he is ready to litigate.

City Attorney Feuer called homelessness one of the most difficult issues since there are "legitimate conflicting interests." His office is playing a significant role by establishing homeless courts and appointing a contact person within his office. The mobile homeless court is being funded by a County of L.A. grant and allows homeless individuals to do community service instead of paying for a citation. This program serviced 1,300 people in its first year.

In addition, Feuer told the audience about a new program he is launching that will encourage existing motels to convert to housing for homelessness. He stated existing motels are good opportunities because they are already built and in many neighborhoods throughout the city. Motel owners should consider this opportunity because the city will provide a secure source of rental income and funds for capital

Homelessness Policy Committee

This week at CCA's Homelessness Policy Committee, members heard from the Office of Mayor Garcetti and the Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority (LAHSA). They shared with us recent City and County actions related to comprehensively addressing homelessness.

The Mayor's office provided the new protocols related to LAMC 56.11 regarding sidewalks and the storage of personal belongings. The new protocols will be enforced by Hope Teams and managed by the City's Bureau of Sanitation. The Hope Teams are comprised of a Los Angeles Police Department officer, sanitation worker and representative from LAHSA. They are trained to provide outreach and offer services. CCA members asked about the impact of Hope Teams in Downtown and learned that the teams will be deployed based on service requests to 311. CCA members are encouraged to use the City's 311 system.

We also learned about the new protocols related to vehicle dwelling. These protocols will sunset on June 30, 2018, as the City hopes to have more permanent housing and designated safe parking programs available. CCA members expressed the need to access solutions now for homelessness and heard details regarding the development of the homeless service delivery network.

One of the key missing pieces in the homeless service delivery network is storage facilities for homeless individuals belongings across the city. Currently, the only facility is in Skid Row. Thanks to the passage of Proposition HHH, the City now has the resources to fund these facilities but needs development partners. The City has released a RFP which can be viewed here. CCA encourages members to review this opportunity and to help spread the word.

LAHSA provided an update on the existing San Julian Center Drop-in Center in Skid Row. The center will be renovated into a 30-40 bed crisis center for homeless adults with severe mental illness and drug addiction. It will be a place where high-acuity homeless individuals can stay while permanent housing is being identified. Traditional shelters and other interim housing options are often not appropriate for this population.

LAHSA also shared the progress that has been made over the last year in increasing outreach teams, transitioning shelters to 24 hour a day operations, refining the Coordinated Entry System and fully staffing up now that resources are available.

LAHSA and the Mayor's office did hear from many CCA members about the

CCA IN ACTION

CCA held its third working group this week regarding the implementation of Measure JJJ and the Transit Oriented Communities (TOC) guidelines. The TOC guidelines are a package of incentives for new residential developments with five or more units that are located within ½ mile of a major transit stop. The guidelines will be released on March 13 for a 30 day public comment period and will be considered by the City Planning Commission shortly after.

For more information, please contact CCA's Managing Director of Legislative Affairs & Government Relations, Marie Rumsey.

At the Board of Airport Commissioners meeting this morning, CCA gave its full support to the Landside Access Modernization Plan at LAX. This project will modernize the busiest Origin & Destination airport in the United States, which will help residents and visitors more easily access LAX facilities. We support this project because it significantly reduces traffic in and around the airport, it will create thousands of jobs in Los Angeles County and it improves the pressing concern of homelessness in Downtown and the associated impacts. There was a good dialogue about the need to have homeless services across the county and the fact that most solutions to homelessness are not immediate.

CCA thanks Peter Lynn and Alisa Orduna for their presentations and comments.

On Tuesday, CCA testified before the Planning and Land Use Management Committee (PLUM) in support of Councilmember Mitch O'Farrell's motion to streamline the permitting and entitling process for new small businesses and developments. Streamlined permitting and entitling processes will aid in attracting new small businesses and retaining existing ones that want to expand within the City.

For more information, please contact CCA's Membership Coordinator, Joanne Danganan.

CCA also spoke at PLUM about the City Administrative Office's recommendation to increase the General Plan Maintenance Surcharge to an amount equal to 7% of the permit fees. We understand the necessity to fund the transition to and implementation of a six-year update cycle, as up-to-date community plans will provide greater certainty for developers and community members.
